Quotes from Clients

“Our managers have come to rely on the easy-to-read profiles as one of their tools in the interviewing and hiring process. The AVA assessment has repeatedly proven to be a very good indicator of a person's "fit" with a particular position.”

“AVA offers a functional resource for personalized coaching strategies. Learning more about what each individual brings to the workplace and developing their potential can make all the difference between success and failure.”

“I have used AVA for over 16 years as it provides a wealth of information for the hiring process. It opens dialogue with the applicant and provides questions that may not have been raised otherwise. I have tested other behavioral services and found they have proven less detailed, less accurate and some have proven more difficult to interpret.”
